SHORE EDITORIAL:

This is the third edition of "Shore" containing both school-records and examples of work from within, and outside the classroom. Formerly "Shore" and the school-records' magazine were published separately, until April 1976 when the first integrated "Shore" was presented.

This new arrangement has received much praise from people outside the school.

Since then, interest in "Shore" has been increasing; more literary, artistic and technical contributions come from within the classroom, together with material covering extra-curricular activities.

This edition, "Shore" 1977 was compiled as a sixth-form liberal studies option in the 3rd term. Much of the work done followed the lines set down by preceding school magazines; however some new ideas were adopted.

The response from staff and students has been gratifying, and little persuasion has been needed to accumulate material.

Each article had to be proof-read and categorized, artwork and photographs selected, followed by a visit to the printers.

Hopefully this edition of "Shore" will prove successful both as a record and fully represent a cross-section of all aspects of Westlake, for the year 1977, the sixteenth since the school was founded.

OBITUARY - Brian Haxell

During the first term we were saddened by the untimely death of fifth-form student Brian Haxell.

As a gifted scholar with wide interests and a kind, considerate nature, Brian will be fondly remembered by his teachers and contemporaries. The large Westlake representation at his funeral reflected the respect in which he was held.

Is life a boon?
If so, it must befall
That Death, how'ere he call
Must call too soon.

OBITUARY - Gavin Thompson

During the second term teachers and pupils alike were shocked to hear of the sudden death of Gavin Thompson, a third former who had become a familiar sight about the school in his wheelchair. Gavin coped remarkably well with his disability and enjoyed his attendance at Westlake. We are happy that this was so, but he also gave much to the school. His cheerful acceptance of adversity and his ever ready smile were an example to all. Gavin brought out the best in the other pupils by providing them with the opportunity to help someone less fortunate than themselves. There was never any lack of volunteers to wheel him from room to room, not only among his classmates but throughout the school. It was a heartening sight to see a very senior boy holding the library door open while another - perhaps a prefect - wheeled a humble third-former back to his classroom. Gavin's death is indeed a loss to Westlake and all who knew him offer their sincerest sympathy to Mr. & Mrs. Thompson.

HEADMASTER'S COMMENTS

Many times this year I have been asked to give impressions of Westlake Boys' High School. Somewhat reluctantly, I am now to commit some of these to paper, being no longer unable to avoid the issue by a shrug of the shoulders or an insipid smile.

The setting, the academic results, the appearance and behaviour of the students arrest the attention of the community that is served by the school. These and many other topics are important.

The physical conditions that exist at the school can be tendered by workmen, interested bodies and staff, but the students themselves appeared to me to have little or no interest in developing or maintaining a pleasant working environment.

Academic results are high and the contributing area is justly proud of the achievements gained at the school by the teaching offered to boys whose background frequently encourages success. These standards must be maintained and all students should be given the opportunity to realise their full potential. The decision to do so, however, remains theirs. Staff and parents strive to work together for the benefit of the students and it is disappointing to see some leavers apparently unaware of the encouragement that had been offered to them.

The young citizen of today is responsible enough to want to formulate his own standards, to have his own experience, to come to his own conclusions. This makes for delicate living, but sometimes - indeed very often - it makes for more honest living and greater ultimate conviction. Moreover, where the young man may be impatient of precept it is very often found that he is far from prepared to disregard the record of human experience. If only he could acknowledge and discuss matters with others who have experienced the same dilemma, then the young man would become confident in his decision-making.

It may be agreed that, unfortunately, the impression gained on a first meeting, takes some time to dissipate. Nevertheless, I trust that it will indeed do so.

MR. P. HUNTER-WATTS

New Zealand and British teachers have a system of exchange: Teachers from each country are matched, then swap their teaching-positions, classrooms, dwellings, motor-cars, and even golf clubs for a length of time.

This year Mr. P. Hunter-Watts, of Aylesbury in Buckinghamshire, England, has swapped with Westlake's Mr. G. Binnie, and has rendered excellent service; he teaches Mathematics to the boys of 5Hu, 4Be, 4Ge, 3A1 and 3Ke.

Mr. and Mrs. Hunter-Watts and their son arrived in January, and are returning to England shortly after Christmas Day.

We wish them a good journey home and all best wishes for the future.

LIBERAL STUDIES

This year the school's sixth form liberal studies programme saw the inauguration of some new options, with the retention of the more successful ones of former years and the co-ordination of some courses to enable co-operation with Westlake Girls High School. The community service option which had been pioneered by Westlake gave as usual a great deal of satisfaction to the students who participated in it.

A scuba-diving course to N.Z.U.A. basic standard was provided at less than half the normal commercial price: This gave about thirty sixth-formers an opportunity to realise their "dream sport".

Options offered were: Archery;*Civil Defence; Community Service;*Defensive Driving; Design for Living; Fine Arts; Human Relations;*Indonesian Studies;*Life-saving;*Metalwork;*Motor Maintenance; Music; Photography;*Red Cross First Aid;*Scuba-diving; Shore Magazine; Typing;*Woodwork.

In the case of asterisked options, the school is indebted to tutors from outside the school who made their respective options a success.

Messrs. G. Warner, A. Waller, T. Stephenson, R. Overend, M. LeMesurier, A. Kilduff, J. Kellett, J. Horner, M. Heath, J. Fowler and W. Burnell made up an enthusiastic staff group and ensured the smooth running of Liberal Studies.

Two discussion-groups "Design for Living" and "Human Relations", run by Mr. Burnell and Mr. Le Mesurier respectively were inaugurated. These included visits to outside the school and proved very stimulating.

A new option was sprung in the third term; "Indonesian Studies: organised by Mrs. J. Harris, better known as one of the school's Librarians, who has travelled through Indonesia. She was formerly a teacher of Indonesian Language.

This option covered aspects of Indonesian language, culture and geography.

LIBRARY NOTES:

Mrs. Potter continues as Library Assistant, with Mr. deLautour as Teacher-Librarian. Mrs. Harris has joined the Library staff, coming on two days a week.

Jeffrey Waite, John Carter, Paul Brown and Sze Meng Tan have shared the Senior Librarian position this year - an alternative to the appointment of a single Head Librarian which has worked well.

Special thanks have been earned by Jeffrey, who has handled an onerous and at times, difficult job very successfully.

There is a good core of 5th and 6th form librarians, and a large group of hard-working, if at times a little over-exuberant, juniors, which suggests that we will have a good supply of experienced helpers in future years.

Our Library owes more to these forty or so student assistants than is often realised. They do tasks that in public libraries would be done by paid professionals. Without their help, our library could not function.

A committee is at present meeting in Wellington, reviewing submissions on the state and needs of school libraries. It is to be hoped that at the top of their recommendations to the Education Department will be the urgent need for an increase in full-time staffing. A library of our size needs a full-time staff of at least three - and that is an absolute minimum - to function as it should in providing the school with an efficient central resource centre.

ARTS FESTIVAL:

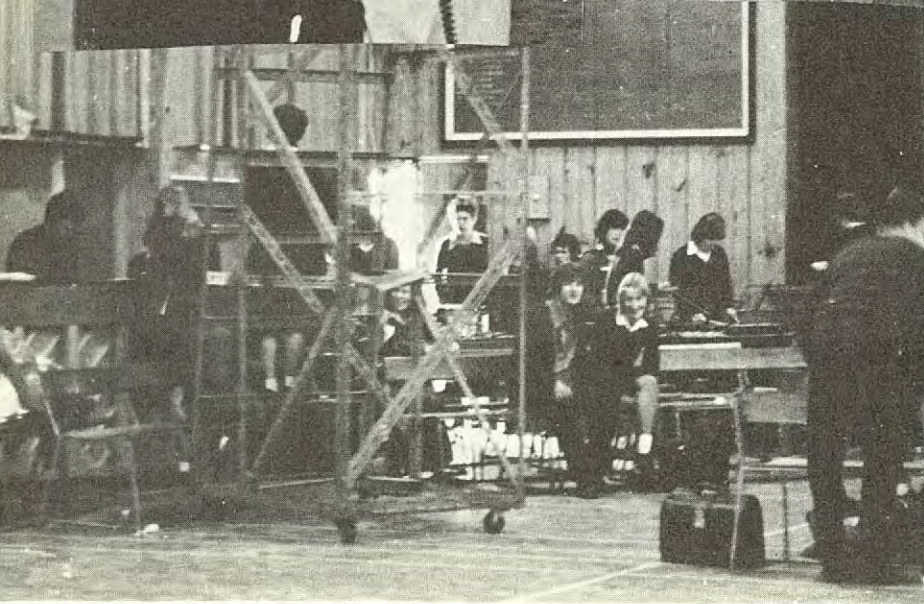

The Annual Art Festival was held between 26 to 31 August and a new format was experimented with. As an exercise in expanding the concept of an Arts Festival, the venture was a success.

North Shore schools were invited to send art students to participate in our arts festival. Pupils from Takapuna, Rosmini, Birkdale, Long Bay and Glenfield schools were involved in the Mural and Sculpture activities. Twenty-four large murals were completed and the best of these are now displayed in the school. Two senior Takapuna Grammar boys created three sculptures, two of which are now erected in the Grounds.

Warwick Lidgard kindly assisted us by building and firing a raku kiln. The results were very successful and the kiln created quite a spectacle for visitors.

A photography demonstration by Shaun Easte showed how he produced 20 x 20" prints. This was followed by a Ciebechrome colour print demonstration.

MUSIC:

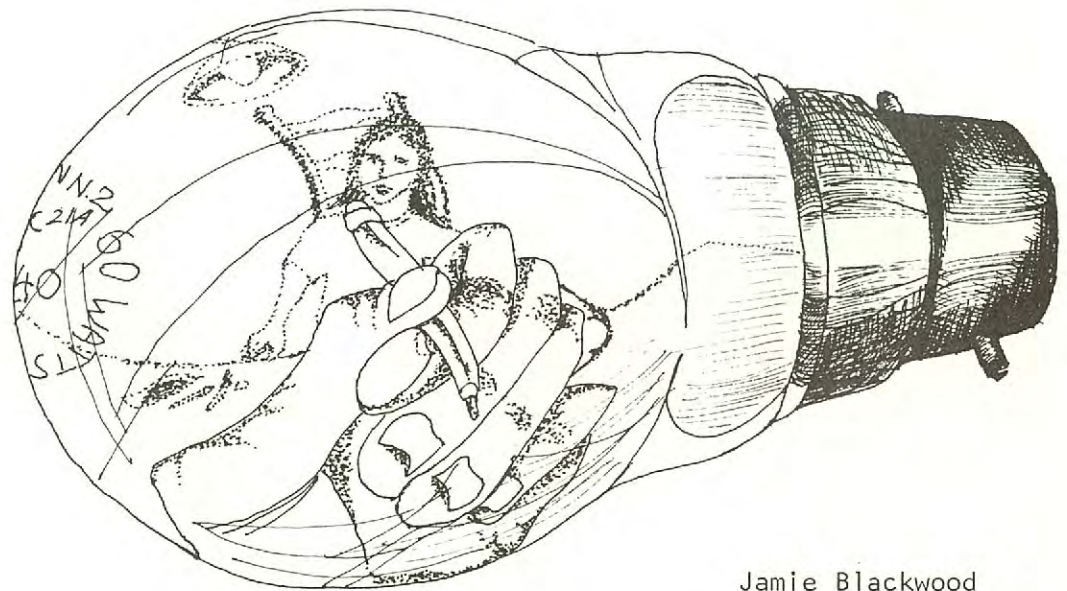

It is now a full year since the Westlake Symphonic Band set forth on its tour of Fiji, after nearly two years of planning and fundraising. To say that the tour was a tremendous success would border on understatement. At every school and village the band was given a most enthusiastic welcome, and in return presented concerts of an extremely high standard. Sometimes these concerts were held outside amongst the sluggish toads from the nearby sea-shore area, or inside classrooms designed to hold 30 - not 35 band members AND the whole school. Due to the very hard work of Mr. Rabukauraga, the band was billeted out each evening, and through this experience an insight into the life styles of many Europeans and Fijians was gained. A year later, memories of the island hospitality, the people who helped and the beautiful girls are still fresh and fond. Perhaps we may plan another Fiji trip?

1977 saw the introduction of 1 hour teaching periods, and a further restructuring of the 3rd form music course to fit the new time allocation. The section of work dealing with electronic music has grown to the stage where a separate teaching space has been established as a workshop/studio.

A successful visit from Whakatane High School music group resulted in a invitation to visit Whakatane in 1978.

Much of the instrumental work in the school is supported by the Intinerant teaching staff, so it always is a sad moment when we lose a teacher - particularly one of Mr. V. Vivian's qualities. He has been replaced by Mr. Michael Craven, an old boy of the school and an extremely competent trumpet player. Our thanks go to all the teaching staff for the continued effort in the instrumental tuition field.

Two Library concerts of Chamber Music have been held and a welcome addition has been the reappearance of the Madrigal Choir directed by Mr. Cammell. In addition to performances in school concerts, the Milford Harmony Club, the Madrigal Choir performed at the Pumphouse.

DRAMA:

There was no major production of a full length play this year. Instead, a number of one-act plays were performed as part of the Arts Festival.

Included amongst these, was a combined schools production of the Bald Prima Donna, by Eugene Ionesco. This was given two evening performances in the Boys' School Hall. Parts were taken by Tim Mahon, Amanda Forsey, Rex Koller, Susanne Rossitter, Margaret Myer, and Craig Hobbs. Back-stage assistance came from Paul Woodhouse, Andrew Simms, and others. Production was by Chris deLautour, with assistance from Alison Darroch.

The play ran very smoothly. In a school it is not always possible to give a full length play the finish it needs, so concentrated work on a shorter piece can be, in the end, more satisfying. Certainly in this case, a uniformly strong cast carried off both the subtleties and the more farcical moments of Ionesco's drama with considerable success.

C. deLautour.

RUGBY

THE RUGBY FOREWORD:

Nineteen seventy-seven has been Westlake's most successful year in the fifteen-man game.

The school fielded ten teams in regular Saturday competition and this meant that nearly two hundred boys had a real weekend interest throughout the winter months. The most successful team was John Henderson's 6A side which gave Westlake its first ever championship win. Congratulations go to all who made this side the team it was, and especially to John.

Not far behind, performance-wise, was the 3A side coached by Mr. D. Johnson. This team was runner-up in its grade and at all times played entertaining football. All other grade teams played well in their respective sections and enjoyed their football.

The 1st XV had its most successful season to date, finishing second to Kelston Boys High. Congratulations go to Nick Trimble on being chosen as the Auckland under 16 full-back, and to Captain, Stephen Bridge, vice-captain Gary Brunson, loose forward John McIntyre and fullback Iain Frew on making the Auckland Secondary School representative sides. A special mention to Gary, who was made Captain of the team which was selected from all teams taking part in the provincial tournament. He then went on to play for the North Island under 18 side, which beat the South Island in Invercargill. Again thanks to all parents, friends and supporters of the team for making the 77 season the success it was.

1st XV - 1977:

This year's Westlake 1st XV finished second in the 'A' grade competition. This is the best effort by a Westlake 1st XV in the school's history. The team had eight players back from the year before with Graham Smallfield out for the season with a bad back injury.

After our first serious game against our traditional rivals, Takapuna Grammar, we all thought that the team might be joining Takapuna Grammar in the 'B' division when we lost to them 3-6. The forward pack was inexperienced, only having Stephen Bridge and John McIntyre back from the year before. But from this game the forward pack knew it had to shape up. From that game on it improved admirably and got an even share of the ball from most teams.

The backs showed their class in our first competition game when we overwhelmed St. Kents, 30-7. After that we had four straight wins, gaining the Moascar Cup from St. Peters College and then losing it to Kelston two games later.

We went on to lose only one more competition game against Auckland Grammar. If we had drawn this game we would have tied for the championship with Kelston.

We gained a tremendous amount from Gisborne after losing to them and then beating Tauranga Boys. Another good win was against Shirley Boys High, whom we beat 28-13.

This success was attained by an all-round team effort. With quick loose forwards (Stephen Bridge, John McIntyre, and Graeme Lynch) we were able to be first to the loose ball and with the other five forwards getting an equal share of the ball against bigger and more experienced packs, the backs were able to run the ball. With Paul Kelly setting the backs going and Gary Brunson being very elusive and having a safe and sound fullback in Iain Frew, they performed very well with plenty of speed in the three-quarters with Peter and John Burley and Nick Trimble.

The team had a very good defence with good mid-field defence from John Watson and Peter Burley. We did in fact concede the least number of points in the competition. Thanks must go to the reserves who trained conscientiously with few chances to play in the first team, and to Mr. Butt who brought the team to such high honours. Thanks to the parents and others without whom the year would not have been as enjoyable and special thanks to Mr. Moss who arranged the Gisborne and Tauranga trip for us.

 Centre: G. Smallfield, I. Frew, P. Kelly, P. Burley, J. Watson, B. Handey, G. Urbahn, Mr. Butt

2A RUGBY:

1977's 2A team shaped up well and looked as though it would have a good season. Where the minds were willing, unfortunately the bodies were not. Our biggest, single problem was an inability to apply the finishing touch and many opportunities went begging because of bad passes, ill-directed kicks and lack of thought.

However, we did at times produce good rugby such as the win over St.Kents, 7-6 in the Westlake mud, involving good play from both forwards and backs. Holding Auckland Grammar to 4-0 at half-time with only 14 men was an indication of the potential sometimes realised. In losing to Mangere's 1st XV 10-15 we showed brilliance of sorts in the closing stages, sadly too late.

The 1st XV reserves in the team added much needed help in their positions, and who can forget the lessons we taught the 1st's at practice one night; our "most memorable victory". Whether won or lost every player enjoyed the game and the comradeship on and off the field.

Moloney, Sapsford, Urbahn and Sargent formed the basis of our pack ably supported by Johanneson, Pound, Aitken, Bell, Vaotua, Reid, Wilson, Marsh and Baylis when fit.

Our losses could often have been victories particularly with the scoring power of our backs fully utilised. Sclater at halfback led the side capably with Malbon, Corbett, Salter and Gothard running hard outside him. Schaumkel, Murray and Kelly were often called upon to defend doggedly but attacked whenever opportunity came. Many of these players will undoubtedly go on to the 1st XV or club sides and further develop their skills.

Thanks to all who gave so much in training and on the field and a special thanks to the coaches Messrs. Poland and Russell who gave up their time and joined with us in an enjoyable year's rugby.

3A RUGBY:

After losing decisively to Sacred Heart in their first game the team settled down and fashioned a fine record, losing only one other match - a return encounter with Sacred Heart.

Their complete record was as follows:

Played	Won	Drawn	Lost	Points for	Points Against
16	12	2	2	233	130

Team Captain, John Stanley capped a season of consistently fine play by scoring 101 points. He is possibly the most promising player the school has had. Several others also show a high level of promise. Craig King, with eight, led the try scorers.

Notable features of the season were outstanding displays in the wet against Kings (1st game) and Auckland Grammar (2nd game) and fine firm ground performances against St.Kentigens and Auckland Grammar (1st game).

A fine team spirit developed and the team trained earnestly even under adverse weather and ground conditions. An evening with dinner at the home of the coach at which a video tape was shown of the last game concluded a successful season.

The team members were: M.Poll, K.Rooney, C.King, B.Ball, T.O'Leary, M.Vaughan, J.Stanley, M.Cartwright, G.Hodder, S.Williams, R.Jackson, D.Kelly, D.Anderson, G.Chilcott, M.Alderson, P.Dayberg, R.Ward, S.Beere, R.Moore, P.Heath.
Coach: Mr. D. Johnson.

3B RUGBY:

The team had an inconsistent year winning 5 games and losing 7 games. However, there was a great team spirit.

Team members: S. Moorhead (Captain) R.Redpath (v.c.)
R. Hall, J. Robinson, D. Stevenson, W. Brown, D.Mills,
J. Fitzsimmons, S.Couling, G.Stevenson, M.Anderson,
P.Rakena, S.Davy, L.Davy, R.Lund, K.Rooney, S.Taylor,
A.McMillan, J.Wilkin, W.McLean, T.Burrell.
Coach - Mr. A. Stevenson.

Results: Competition Games.

Auckland Grammar	Lost	9-22
Selwyn College	Won	6- 4
Rosmini College	Lost	0-21
Birkdale College	Lost	12-22
Northcote College	Won	7- 0
Takapuna Grammar	Lost	3-22
Rangitoto College	Won	10- 4
Massey High School	Lost	3- 7
Lynfield College	Lost	9-12
Mt. Roskill Grammar	Won	13-11

Non-competition Games:

Kelston Boys High	Won	16- 8
Kings College	Lost	8-13

Points for: 96 Points Against: 125

The strength of the team was in its forwards which were well led by R.Redpath. They were outplayed only in Rosmini and Takapuna (ball aftermath) games. The backs tried to carry on the good work of the forwards but were not always successful. The team pulled through in several games by the accurate goal-kicking of J.Robinson (our Gerald Bosch).

Points Scorers - J.Robinson (8 Pen. 4 Conv)	32
S.Moorhead (5 tries)	20
D.Stevenson (4 tries)	16

Also scored tries - W.Brown (2), R. Hall, S.Couling, K.Rooney, J.Wilkin and a penalty try.

4A RUGBY:

Although result-wise the season wasn't the best, the team spirit was high and members were always ready to give their best. We had an unsettled beginning, the draw first matched us against an experienced Kings side whom we went down to heavily. Not to be discouraged by this loss we came back the following week and defeated Mt. Albert Grammar 44-4. This was probably our best performance of the season with good ball handling and positive play. The rest of the season, unfortunately, comprised of mixed fortunes and some unlucky draws.

I would like to thank our coach Mr. Stephenson, for his enthusiasm and instruction throughout the season. I would also like to thank Mr. Pivac for his coaching hints before major games and all the parents for their transport and encouragement.

Team: J.Sargent(Captain), An excellent leader, always gave of his best.
O'Brien - a determined player who always gave his best.
M.Pratt - Hooked well, was a quick striker of the ball.
S.Poll - Toiled hard in the tight.
M.Frew - A most useful lineout player.
R.Service - Used his height and weight to great advantage.
T.Ord - Seemed to have a knack to score tries when most needed.
G.Hall - Played courageously, tackled fearlessly.
S.O'Leary - Taught the team a thing or two on how to ruck and maul.

B.Kelly - Our Don Clarke, he played well behind the scrum.
 W.Pivac - A very reliable player, kicked well for touch.
 B.Cooper- An extremely strong runner with the ball at hand.
 C.Falwasser - Played some great games.
 G.McPhee- A determined player.
 D.Kendall - Played well, a fine tackler.
 D.Kenyon - Scored tries through sheer pace and determination.
 D.Evans - Most reliable player, especially on defence.

4B RUGBY:

The Four B Rugby had a rather poor season if the criteria for judging this is the number of games lost and won. In this department they won only one game, against Dilworth College, and lost the others.

Despite this seemingly dismal record the team improved with each game, always tried until the very last whistle, and, despite some rather atrocious conditions, always fielded a team.

There were a number of players who improved greatly during the year such as Steven Gregory who played with a great deal of courage at fullback, Andrew Fitzsimmons who always ran hard and Barry Barttlet who proved to be a very good loose forward.

As coach I would like to thank all the parents who turned up on the Saturdays to give advice and to cheer the team on, as well as providing transport.

5A RUGBY:

Team: B.Watts(Captain), R.Brunsdon(v.c.), M.Bolland, C.Charman, R.Edmondson, M.Ericson, B.Fearnley, D.Grey, M.Hodder, B.Leslie, D.Lorimer, M.McClatchy, G.Penrose, R.Pointon, D.Radonich, A.Scott, M.Taylor, D.Wynne.

The season was characterised by the enthusiasm of the team, regular attendance at practices, despite frequent rain and waterlogged grounds, an enthusiastic and loyal group of fine parents who supported the team regularly, keen competition and most enjoyable matches.

The standard of play improved steadily due to the readiness of the team to accept the discipline of regular training. This continued until a most unfortunate period of five weeks mid-season during which the team played only one match due to a combination of circumstances - a bye, mid-term break, cancellations and closed grounds. This so checked the progress of a promising side that the lost ground was never recovered. The results afterwards, only one victory in six matches, contrasted disappointingly with seven wins from the first nine matches.

In the Auckland Secondary Schools' Competition the team lost only to Kings College and Auckland Grammar in the first round but could only finish fourth on points after the final round.

Results of competition matches:

Played	Won	Lost
12	8	4

As a wind-up to an enjoyable season a trip by cars to Matamata was organised. Leaving school at 9am Sunday, we arrived at a Matamata motel accompanied by two parents, Messrs. Watts and Radonich, about Midday, lunched, motored to Okaroire for golf and returned for swimming in the hot pool before a smorgasbord dinner. Matamata College, our hosts on Monday, provided us with a well-matched and most enjoyable game during their lunch hour, a narrow defeat 12-6 and afternoon tea before motoring home.

W.R. Soper (Coach)

5C RUGBY:

With three losses in their first three games the 5C Rugby team made a hesitant start to the season. By the end of the winter they had finished midway up the competition table; at times they played some very fine rugby and scored convincing wins over highly-rated sides. Throughout the season, however, their lack of experience contributed to a frustrating inconsistency.

Perhaps the most impressive aspect of the 5C team was the team spirit which developed throughout the winter. Despite the fact that a number of players were in their first season of 'serious' football, the team responded with a willingness that was most noticeable in defence. No side scored heavily against them, but a lack of cohesion, both on attack and in the loose, penalised their efforts far too often

In the backs the team suffered from a lack of real pace on the wings. Never-the-less, definite improvements did come and the ball was moved through the backs with increasing confidence. The forwards, many of whom were new to School football, gave glimpses of better things to come; the major problem being a reluctance to control and dominate loose ball. There was, though, an encouraging improvement all year.

Several players deserve individual mention. Phillip Kendall at fullback was outstanding on defence, and made some spectacular tackles. At centre, Grant Ryan ran strongly and tackled safely; he and Michael O'Donovan worked honestly and improved their 'support play' with every game. Jimmy Davies, a genuinely gifted ball-player, was available only occasionally but his contribution to the team morale was appreciated by players and spectators alike. At half-back, Jimmy Bell (the smallest player in the grade) was all effort and his determination to improve his game set a fine example to the other players. A late arrival in the team was Scott Read whose play was highlighted by his determination to reach the opposition line.

In the forwards the example set by Brett Hickford was invaluable. Particularly on attack he showed real flair and aggression. Phillip Schmidt, captain-flanker, worked efficiently and intelligently with Andrew Boak who also doubled as capable reserve hooker. Scott Gow produced moments of excellent football, either as flanker or on the wing. Wayne Crawford came to realise his attacking potential and made fine progress as a lineout jumper. Ross Bedford, new to football, learnt quickly; by the end of the year he was a very promising tight forward.

Perhaps the backbone of the forward strength was one man: all season Gavin Gibbons worked unselfishly, dedicated to doing his job and doing it well.

Not all players can claim the limelight, but without the likes of Geoff Ellin, Brian Service, Danny Vendt (young backs with their best football ahead of them), Brent Stewart, Luke Stoker, Russell Rooney and Paul Hatch (forwards who need only confidence to become more involved in the game), without these players no side can function. Their contribution to the side should not be overlooked. Typical of their keenness was Martin Steele who tried enthusiastically all year.

In all a successful season. The team is indebted to those loyal parents who provided transport uncomplainingly whenever it was required and to Mr. Knowles, the Coach, who trained and organised the team into a cheerful and successful unit.

6A had a very successful season. This was mainly due to their ability to put into practice what they had learnt on the practice field. Although we had a good season it was not a smooth one, due to the fact that we had a small squad, only 17 players, and when Graham Watts broke his leg, we were reduced to 16 players. Many thanks to Martin Baker who helped us out when we were short of players. Graham led the team very well. He had my respect and the players' respect which helps when you are captaining any team. His loss after only seven games (in which he scored 42 points) would have been a worse blow to the team if Richard Mackisack had not taken over where Graham left off. This made the team continue to play good rugby. We endeavoured to play open attacking rugby and had varying degrees of success.

The season had many highlights; our first competition game which we won 78 to nil, our last game which we won 9-4 giving us the competition, our match against the unbeaten Sacred Heart team who played as well as we did and held us at 6-6 for a good while. This latter game was probably the best game the team played. For our trip during mid-term break to Rotorua, we give many thanks to Mrs. Grey and Mrs. Watts for putting up with us for the four days. It was good to see many players in their first season of rugby playing in this team. There were at least six players who didn't play football last season. It is difficult to single out any players who were more outstanding than the rest so I am not going to try. 6A players all the best in their future playing years. Many thanks to Mr. Botica and Mr. Butt for coming along to the odd training session, and also to Mr. Butt for his words of wisdom against Auckland Grammar School. Thanks also to all the many parents who supported the team throughout the season.

TENNIS:

Tennis continues to be one of the more popular sports in the school. About a hundred boys choose to play social tennis during the Wednesday afternoon sports period, and the school is grateful for the use of the Forrest Hill courts and the Pupuke Tennis Club courts.

Competitive tennis is catered for though to a lesser degree. Transport problems on the Shore have forced some schools to withdraw from competition so that at present only third and fourth formers meet. The Onewa courts are used each Wednesday for a continuing tournament involving singles and doubles. Mixed doubles are always conspicuously absent in a single-sex school.

Nevertheless the senior boys do not suffer. The clubs cater for their interest so well that the school is relieved of this responsibility.

School championships were held and the results were:

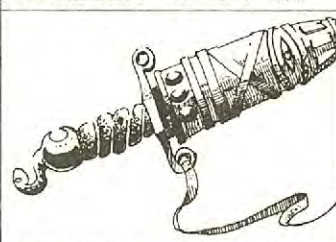

Senior Champion: Stephen Hotchin

Intermediate Champion: Paul Pound

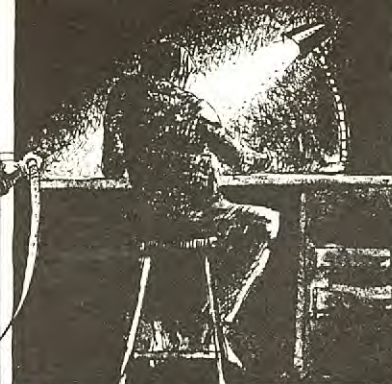

Junior Champion: John Dickinson

These champions are rather advanced for their actual chronological age; their ability outstrips their years. Since this situation could cause anomalies in the future it has been decided that from next year the Senior Championship will go to a boy who is technically a senior, i.e. over 16 on the 1st of April; the Intermediate Championship to an intermediate and so on.

Coxswain: J.Bell

Coach: Mr. E. Craies

Manager: Mr. McIntyre

The season started with only 2 Seniors returning from the Maadi Cup winning eight the year before. Promotions came from Mr. Rea's crew (6), Mr.Redpaths crew (2) and Mr. Kenney's crew (2). Starting with an inexperienced senior squad Mr. Craies built a fine racing crew. A highlight of the season's very intensive racing was to see the Senior 8 compete at the New Zealand Club Championships at Levin. The Crew raced very well to finish 3rd in the Youths division and the experience was invaluable as later results show.

The squad attended the training camp at Karapiro during the Christmas holidays and the school video proved to be of unparalleled value in the coaching of the complex sport of oarsmanship.

The crew was granted, in the best Westlake tradition, further time off school to compete in the Maadi Cup Regatta at the New Zealand Secondary Schools Championships at Wanganui. In a thrilling final watched by over 15000 people, the crew finished a magnificent second behind Wanganui Collegiate School.

The Head of Harbour race saw the Westlake crew start brilliantly and race into a full length lead. Racing for the finishing line with the 7000 spectators roaring, the crew struck brief problems in rough water but a last 40 metre drive from stroke J. McIntyre captured the Auckland Championship for the 8th time since 1966. It was a wonderful climax to a great season of rowing.

Some points to ponder are - (1) the complete success of the squad system of training.
(2) the firm conviction of all of Westlake coaches this year, that Westlake must look towards developing a base for long rowing on the upper harbour around Beachhaven.

The crew expresses their gratitude and thanks to Coach, Mr. Craies. His effort and time devoted to rowing and the improvement of all oarsmen under his tuition must surely be the greatest gift a young oarsman could ever receive.

Also special thanks to Mr. and Mrs. McIntyre, thanks also to the few parents who ran so well the holiday training camp and thanks to every person and parent who assisted the senior squad.

INTERMEDIATE EIGHT (No.1)

Crew: A.Gilbert Stroke, D.Anderson 7, T.Baird 6,
G.Hailwood 5, K.O'Hagen 4, C.Gladden 3, S.Wilson 2,
G.Hartley 1.

Coxswain: G.Watts

Coach: Mr. Rea

Manager: Mr. Hartley

The season started well and after trying different combinations the eight was selected as above. The entire squad attended the physically exhausting but very enjoyable camp at Karapiro during the Christmas holidays. Hard racing and training followed and gradually this very young and inexperienced squad developed into a wonderful crew in every way. Team spirit was very high and performances continued to improve. The crew was indeed fortunate to travel to Wanganui and compete in the New Zealand Schoolboys Championships at the Maadi Cup Regatta. The highlight was a thrilling win in the petite final of the intermediate eights. Returning home the crew enjoyed two weeks of intensive training on the upper harbour which allowed coach, Mr. Rea, to use a speed-boat to obtain intensive individual training of each oarsman. The crew went into the Auckland Championship Regatta at the Head of Harbour

Regatta on Lake Pupuke (Westlake's home course) very well prepared and in a thrilling race won the Colts' eights title. This race was a highlight of the regatta as the Westlake crew was lying second to a powerful St.Paul's Coll ate crew and only a brilliant last 100 metre push by A. Gilbert gained the crew its deserved victory. It was a rowing display of the highest courage.

A mention must be made of the wonderful help crew and coach had from Mr. and Mrs. Hartley. We will always be indebted for a continuous supply of common sense, transport, organisation and professional building and repairing skills offered throughout the season.

A thanks to all parents who so generously helped throughout the season and a special thanks to coach Mr. Rea for without his time and skill this great season would not have been made possible

INTERMEDIATE EIGHT (No.2)

Crew: P. Crane, M.Freeman, C.Hobbs, G.Chilcott, B.Hall, T.O'Leary, S.Bayliss, D.Rudolph.

Coxswain: M.Butler

Coach: Mr. Redpath

Manager: Mr. Crane

During the season this crew developed into a fine courageous eight. They attended the physically demanding Christmas training camp at Karapiro and later were privileged to travel and compete at Wanganui in the Maadi Cup regatta. This regatta was perhaps a highlight for this squad with a win in the petite finals of the senior eights. As with any crew at any level in New Zealand rowing hard training and hard plentiful racing is required to develop both individuals and crews and this crew excelled at both. This crew enjoyed the same two weeks training on the upper Harbour as the other intermediate crew and both coaches and crew are united in their high opinion of this training area for it allows long distance training and use of coaching boats.

The crew, slightly handicapped by lack of size, more than made up for this by team spirit and morale of the highest order.

The crew is grateful for the coaching of Mr. Redpath. Phillip devoted 3 years of first class efforts to Westlake and everyone wishes him well overseas and we hope to have him back coaching Westlake crews one day.

Thanks to the excellent efforts of Manager, Mr. Crane, to all assisting parents and the parents' committee for everything done for the crew.

JUNIOR A - ROWING:

Crew: F.Marsh(stroke), L.Boyd, S.Bedford, A.Simms, R.Redpath, R.Hall, S.Beck, G.Small.

Reserve: D. Hartley

Cox: W.Allen

Coaches: Lew "Bowels" Beck, Garden Emporium Nicol

After a training week at Karapiro's Camp Epworth, the crew faced their first race and achieved a very encouraging second place. Their record throughout the season varied from a first, many seconds and thirds, and a fifth in the intermediate events at Panmure Basin. Spirits were high for the final race of the season, the Head of the Harbour at Pupuke. At this event, the improvement of the crew, was proof of the effort put in by the coaches, Nicol and Beck. The evidence was the crew's 3rd place by both the eight and fours. The crew wishes to thank the coaches for their work in training the boys from scratch into a crew.

4th Form Junior 'B' squad - Coaches: Mr. Allen, Bryn Crossley.

Crew: A.Fitzsimmons, J.Fitzsimmons, M.Greer, O.Hobbs, S.Murray, B.Preston-Thomas, G.Sutton, P.Wadham, K.Wilkins, V.Wykes.

Coxswain: P.Grey

This crew was unfortunately without a coach for part of the season but nevertheless trained conscientiously at all times and was developing well as the season progressed. Gear trouble forced the eight out of its event at the "Head of the Harbour" and prevented the crew from showing its full potential but the squad is together again for the coming regatta season, already training hard and hoping for a little better luck.

3rd Form Junior 'B' squad - Coach: Mr. Russell

Crew: G.Cain, D.Chalmers, D.Corbett, L.deVryer, M.Hill, B.Jones, A.McKinnon, M.McLachlan, S.Read, S.Salt, D.Shart, R.Williams.

Coxswains: A.Hay, K.Insley.

Over a period of six weeks' intensive coaching a very enthusiastic squad of third-formers developed from raw beginners to accomplished oarsmen. Early morning training and weekend rows were held regularly and were made well worthwhile when two crews; an eight stroked by David Sharp and a four stroked by Andrew McKinnon, rowed very creditably at the Head of the Harbour Regatta. Both crews finished well up with the field in races against older and more experienced opposition, once again showing that the future good performance of Westlake senior rowing is assured.

CYCLING

Cycling is becoming an increasingly popular sport in schools with more boys getting lightweight racing bikes. Inter-School competition is encouraged with local and national school-boy championships.

This year Westlake entered a team in the Auckland Championship and performed well to gain 6th place with only a matter of seconds separating the placed teams. 14 teams entered in the event from the Auckland district.

In August our team competed in the National School-boy Championship at Levin but was unplaced. Unfortunately, Bruce Logan, one of the team's stronger riders, had to withdraw before the event due to sickness. The team consisted of:

Stephen Cameron
Terry Mustchin
Kelvin Patton
Lou Nicholson
Dean Major

BASKETBALL:

BASKETBALL : 1977

Mixed results were achieved by the four school teams this year. The Junior B side won its competition, the Senior A finished 3rd, while the Junior A and Senior B did not enjoy quite the success of last year. Many thanks go to Mr. Rose and Mrs. Grey for their time, effort, and ability in coaching the two junior teams and also to Mr. Ching for his work with the Senior B. A very pleasing aspect of the season was the raising of $150 through a raffle, to provide uniforms for all teams next year.

Senior A: Andy Dean (Captain), Craig Cruickshank, Glen Corbett, David Grey, Murray Hing, David Parsonson, John Postow, Billy Sorenson

Results:

v Kings (pre-season)	won	45-16
v Glenfield	won	47-18
v Long Bay	won	42-20
v Birkdale	won	46-38
v Takapuna	won	48-24
v Rangitoto	lost	59-75
v Northcote	lost	48-60
v Northcote	lost	55-72
v Takapuna	won	72-32
v Rangitoto (non-comp.)	lost	45-65

The senior A team showed the benefit of the experience as all but two of this year's team were in last year's squad. The team worked competently together in both offence and defence although lack of application in practice and game situations meant that the team was clearly beaten by both Northcote and Rangitoto, to finish third in the Senior A competition. All other games were won well, especially the championship game against Takapuna, where the score was 72-32.

Two aspects of team play were disappointing this year with individual fitness and ability to control the speed and pattern of play both lacking. Too often vital men were fouled from the court in pressure situations, especially against the two top teams. A pleasing aspect, however, of the game against Northcote was the fast game played by Westlake to unsettle the experienced Northcote team and trail by only one point at half-time. Individually the team members showed good ability and complemented each other's play well. Andy Dean was an aggressive player who drove well and shot well from in close. Craig Cruickshank used his height well to rebound well in both blocking and rebound shooting. David Parsonson, also tall at 6'4", progressed well during the season to lead the scoring. In several later games however he was not able to use his height fully. He was selected for the North Shore Representative Team, as was Billy Sorenson, who showed excellent ball-control and shot well from outside the keyhole, especially near the baseline. John Postow developed excellent rebounding both on defence and offence where he was an accurate shot from in close. Glen Corbett was extremely fast around the court, with an accurate jump shot and was extremely good on the quick break. Both Murray Hing and David Grey lacked height and were not confident enough to overcome this disadvantage, although both were capable ball handlers with an accurate shot.

SENIOR B BASKETBALL:

Team: D. McCann, A. Salter, D. Butler, G. Ford, B. Waddell, S. Porter, C. LaPere, J. Wilkin.

Coach and Manager: Mr. W.F. Ching

This year's team had the potential of being a winning team but on most occasions they couldn't seem to 'put it together'. The past experience of John Wilkin and Glenn Ford helped greatly and most of us learnt a thing or two from them.

The most outstanding player had to be David McCann, who with his speed, great dribbling, and quick thinking, scored a seemingly endless run of points on several occasions. David Butler and Aran Salter played well in the forwards and scored good points from breakaways and long distance shooting. Bruce Waddell, Colin LaPere and Stuart Porter finished off the team as the guards, and with a little more organisation and experience, would have proved formidable opponents.

The team wishes to express its thanks to Mr. Ching, for putting up with us during practice and organising the team for games.

A frustrating year as the team very rarely played as well as they were capable of doing. Much soul-searching has failed to find an explanation. There were four first-year players in the team, but as a whole all the boys usually appeared less experienced than their opponents. Also it was often felt they could not handle the adaptation to full-size courts, as all their training was done in the small Westlake Gym. Shooting percentages were very rarely above 50%. Individually the boys have a lot of talent but could not "put it together" as a team.

Mark Sorenson, the main points scorer, showed great improvement in ball control and attacking play. Blair Williams was showing great improvement half way through the season when he unfortunately had to pull out because of injury. Stephen Grey was usually responsible for setting up team plays, but needs to bring more variation into his game.

Neil Cruikshank shows potential and with more confidence should improve considerably.

Those boys who will still be eligible for Junior Basketball in 1978 should have a very successful season.

JUNIOR B.

Team: Timoli Ulvirewa (Captain), Tony MacNamara, David Rutherford, Alan Sherlock, Robert Brazier, Brett Fleetwood, Nicky Tulloch, Philip Twyford, Anthony Steel, Andrew Mayber.

The boys moulded and worked excellently as a team and this was the reason they won the North Shore Junior B Competition. They usually relied on Timoli Ulvirewa to score the baskets, but it was the fact that they were the best team unit in the grade, especially when on defence, that resulted in their success. The one loss of the year could easily have been a win, but unfortunately, Timoli was off form in this game and had a shooting percentage of only 11; our centre, Tony MacNamara, played a fantastic game and shot 50% of the baskets in this all important match. Hato Petera were unbeaten, but luckily for us lost several games by disqualification or default. The major frustration of the season was that having such a large squad, plus the possibility of winning the championship, meant that some of the more inexperienced players did not get a lot of competition play in the tighter games. As usual, when coaching Junior B, there is a lot of pleasure in seeing the great improvement in all the boys; both in basketball skills and in their personal confidence.

SCHOOL ATHLETICS 1977

Because of drainage work on the top field, we had to revert to using the bottom track. Fortunately the weather was fine and the experiment of accepting post entries for track events was successful.

SWIMMING 1977

With 14 records broken this year, the school swimming sports proved to be very exciting. Two swimmers proved outstanding with Kim De Moor winning five 4th-Form finals setting a new record in each of these events. The only event in which De Moor was beaten was in the 66 2/3 breaststroke where B. Brown won again in a record time.

The second outstanding swimmer was Kent Everson who again won 5 finals including two in record time. Of the records broken, the following were outstanding:

3rd Form:

200	F/S	T. Ahearn	2-28.6	Old Record	2-44.7
66 2/3	Br/S	T. Ahearn	50.1	"	" 59.6

HOCKEY:

HOCKEY SEASON 1ST XI

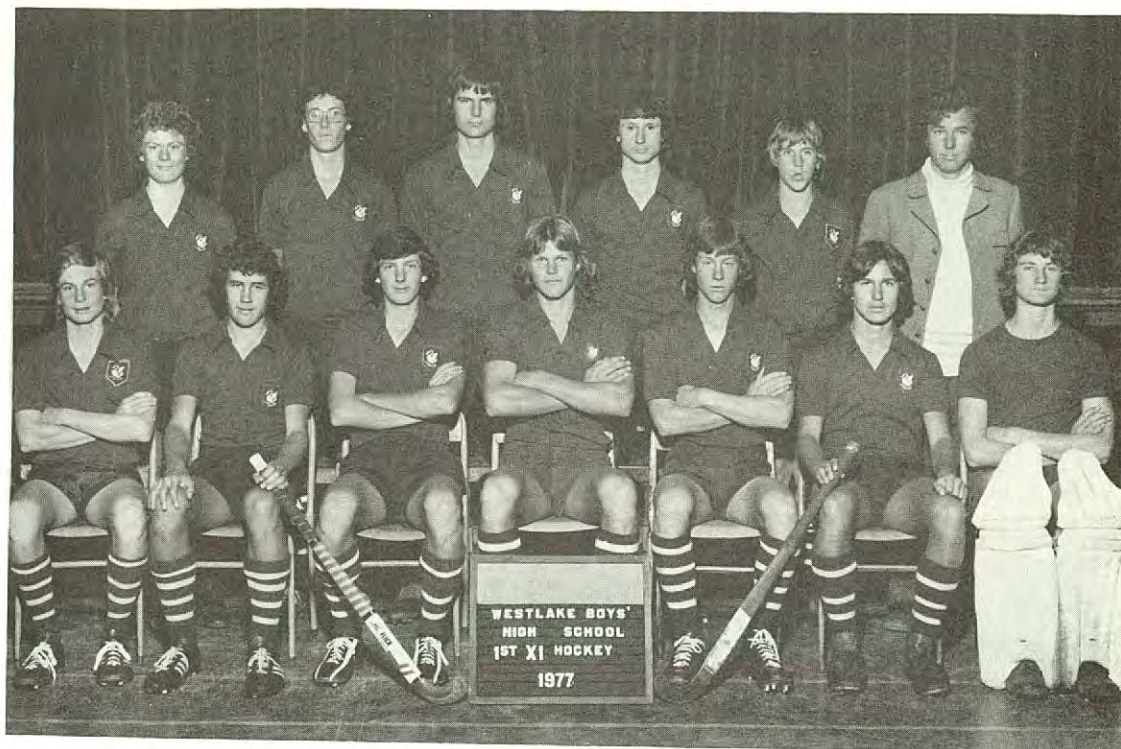

The team was a young and relatively inexperienced side this year and as a result, despite serious training at times, the team mainly looks back on the season as a series of enjoyable and relatively social games. Jan Battaerd, one of the few members of last year's team, who could remember which end of the stick was which, was the obvious choice for captain - the last in a long line of Battaerd brothers who have held this position.

Despite the difficulties of being unable to practise on waterlogged fields, the team did relatively well in the 1B Competition. The team lost three matches, drew one and won 5, leaving us placed 4th in a nine-team competition.

In The Knockout Competition at the end of the season, we fared much better and came second to Avondale (a narrow defeat of 9-0!)

The highlight of the season was undoubtedly the trip to Wellington for the August tournament. We finished fourth in an eight team tournament being beaten convincingly by Papanui and Tawa but losing narrowly to the third place getters, Fraser, on a waterlogged pitch with rain moving horizontally down the pitch at a faster speed than the ball. The spirit at the Wellington West Tournament was exceptional and the team will look back on the week with some nostalgia.

The most improved player of the year has to be our goalie, Chris Hall. He improved in confidence throughout the season and by the August Tournament was defending goal extremely well. Mention must also be made of Dave Chalmers, a rather large third, who developed some speed and momentum on the left wing.

SOCCER

1ST XI SOCCER 1977

The 1st XI had a successful season this year, more successful than their competition position indicates. They finished 4th in the Auckland Sen. A. Competition. The highlight of the season was that they defeated every team that finished ahead of them in the competition. The most notable wins were against Kelston 4-1 and the defeat of the eventual winners Auckland Grammar 3-1.

In the National Tournament held in Christchurch in August, the 1st XI also did well. They finished 4th out of 20 teams and only missed reaching the finals by losing on penalties to Cashmere High School. Here again, in the early part of the tournament, Westlake defeated the eventual winners, Rongotai College (Wgtn.) by 3-2. Also, in the Auckland Secondary Schools' Knockout, the 1st XI reached the final but lost to Kelston 0-1.

The 1st XI was probably one of the best balanced teams that Westlake has produced in recent years. Several members proved their worth as outstanding players this year. Grant Anderton and Tim Rowberry were the top goalscorers and they played consistently well. Mark Nichol in his second year as captain and Alan Hounscome proved strong defenders. Several players improved dramatically in the season notably Martin Robinson and John Porteous. As a whole the 1st XI can be satisfied with what they achieved this year, particularly as a result of the strong team spirit in the team.

SENIOR B SOCCER

The 1977 season proved disappointing, with major problems caused by the wet winter, very muddy grounds and the shortage of playing fields. Many fixtures had to be postponed; in all only four games were played.

A lack of senior players and the absence of a Wednesday grade for the Intermediate team, led to both groups being combined into one large squad. This proved too unwieldy, with the lack of playing continuity showing up in weak team play and unfit players. Despite determined sound performances by most players, the youthfulness and general inexperience of the team proved a handicap in this grade.

(North Shore Mid-week Seniors) In these games a considerable depth of footballing talent was experienced - most opposing teams were their School's 1st XI.

The team mainly consisted of:

M. Gray	(Goalie)

M. Anderton scoring 15 goals

The team, for its second year, was undefeated and again had only one draw. All players competed in Club Teams on Saturdays and drew together skills learnt in these matches.

Throughout the season each member did the job allocated on the field with dedication and cool regard to the opposition. Team spirit was high all the time and was rewarded by the winning of the Zone Championship for the North Shore Schools and the Auckland Under 15 Champs as well. The latter games were held on two Saturday mornings with the full team turning out at the expense of Club games. Special thanks must go to Mark Anderton for his captaincy - well rewarded during the August holidays when he was selected to be Captain of the North Island Under 16 team.

Thank you, team, for all you gave to soccer at Westlake this year.

COLTS B SOCCER

The team started the season well with two victories and a draw, but then succumbed to the plague of bad weather and un-playable grounds which were so much a feature of the season. The resulting lack of match play and even practice meant that by the time the weather improved, it was too late to re-establish our match winning ways.

In view, however, of the fact that Westlake was the only school able to field two full teams, and the B team was therefore playing A teams from other schools, the boys acquitted themselves very well. We congratulate the A team who won the Auckland Championship.

UNDER 14 SOCCER

This year, after a series of trials, the forty-two 3rd Formers seeking to play soccer in the Wednesday Competition were reduced to a squad of twenty-eight.

Team No. 2 proved a formidable combination and by winning 9 of their 13 games were adjudged the winners of the North Shore Competition. In the semi-final play off they played below their best, losing to a strong Kelston team 0-3, but improved a week later to lose just 2-3, again to Kelston, when the opponents for both teams failed to turn up for the play-offs for first and second and for third and fourth.

Playing Record:

Played	Won	Draw	Lost	For	Against

The Team:	R. Jones	I. Roderick
	D. Waddell	D. Major
	J. Tunnicliffe	G. Plunket
	L. Ruwhiu	P. Roebuck (Capt)
	M. Rimmer	P. Loader
	S. Knights	C. Newell
	B. Wood	S. McFadyen

The team started the season well with two wins and a draw from its first four games. Then followed a disastrous 12-0 drubbing at the hands of Rosmini, after which the team's initial confidence never returned.

Although essentially a team effort, McFadyen, Tunnicliffe and Loader were attackers who impressed at times and Roebuck and Wood were defenders who stood out.

As coach, I was most impressed with the team's spirit shown throughout, with the way the boys never stopped trying and with the manner in which they accepted their defeats gracefully and without blaming individuals.

TEAM 2 - Team Notes

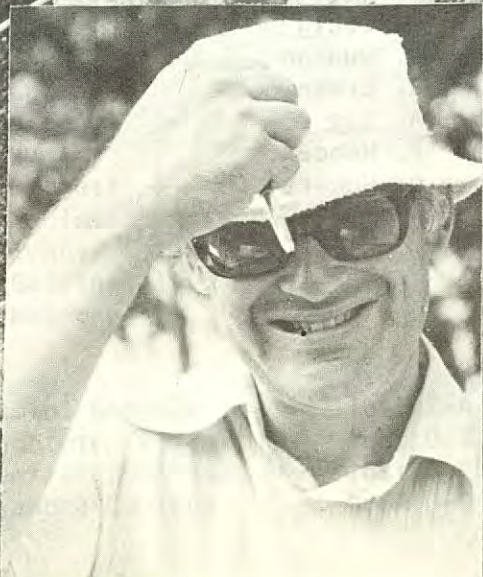

This team enjoyed a highly successful season and improved markedly as the season progressed. Their strongest opponents were Rosmini and Westlake deserved to lose the first game 2-6, but were most unlucky to be held to a 2-2 draw in the return match.

The most exciting games were the two against Birkdale. In the first, Birkdale snatched a draw after being 1-4 down, but in the second, Westlake kept ahead 6-4 after both teams took turns in scoring throughout.

CRICKET:

SCHOOL CRICKET 1977

Westlake has had a sound season this year in cricket. We have entered five Saturday teams plus one Wednesday team in competitions and several of them are doing well.

The 1st XI is currently 1st equal with Kings in the 1A competition and they are due to play each other in the last game. The 3A has had a sound season, while a new 3B team this term is doing well also. The best news is in the junior section, where the 5A and 6A teams are both comfortably winning their competitions. Despite the drop in numbers playing cricket, the standard has by no means slipped.

1ST XI CRICKET 1977:

This year has been a very good one for the 1st XI. Abley led by Captain John Watson, the team is coming first equal at the moment in the 1A competition with Kings College, who they are currently playing in the last game of the season. The boys have only lost two games on the 1st innings to Mt. Albert and Mt. Roskill this year.

The 1st XI has proved a well-balanced team, perhaps the best for several years. Both John Watson and Paul Kelly, two senior members, have consistently done well this year. John has bowled well while Paul has reached success as Secondary School Auckland Rep. Wicketkeeper. Some of the more junior members have also showed form, particularly John Robinson who in one game against A.G.S. achieved the amazing bowling figures of 15 wickets for 59 runs (including 9 for 28). John Stanley and Michael Cartwright have also performed soundly. Special mention can also be made of Graeme Smallfield who, having to stop bowling due to injury, has had to turn to batting and has kept his place in this way improving all the time.

Team:

J. Watson (Captain), I. Frew, P. Kelly, J. Sclater, M. Cartwright, G. Brunsdon, J. Stanley, M. Vaughan, P. Warren, J. Robinson, G. Smallfield, D. Evans.

Results:

v Kelston	1st innings win
v Sacred Heart	1st innings win
v St. Kents	Outright win
v Mt. Albert	1st innings loss
v Mt. Roskill	1st innings loss
v Auckland Grammar	Outright win

Back Row: J. Stanley, G. Smallfield, G. Bean (Coach), P. Kelly, P. Warren

Front Row: J. Sclater, M. Cartwright, I. Frew, J. Watson, M. Vaughan, J. Robinson, D. Evans

3A CRICKET REPORT

Yet another astoundingly successful season for the phenomenal 3A. A remarkable tally of results!

- Dilworth Boys High	- 1st Innings Loss
- Takapuna Grammar	- 1st Innings Win
- Selwyn College	- Draw
- Auckland Grammar	- 1st Innings Win
- Mt. Roskill	- 1st Innings Win

This spirited team acquitted itself brilliantly in all aspects of the game. Several players were asked to don the black cap (with silver fern) but declared themselves unavailable as they didn't feel they could do their country justice at such short notice. We wish to thank our multitude of supporters, i.e. the small hairy Scotsman with the glass in his hand.

Team:	A. Dean (Captain)	A. Rattray
	G. Brunsdon,	G. McPhee
	P. Austin	P. Harrop
	M. Greenwood	S. Grey
	G. Pate	C. Fallwasser
	T. Sylvester	J. Twinhame

3B XI:

The 3B Cricket XI has formed recently in Term 3 and has done surprisingly well in their competition. They have won 2 and lost 2 games. For a supposedly 6th Form 'social' team, they have all proved a keen and reliable group of serious cricketers. Dean Kelly has proved his worth as a batsman while David MacCann and Mark Nicol have proved capable bowlers.

Team:

D. Kelly (Captain), M. Nicol, B. Watts,
S. Moloney, G. Lamb, T. O'Leary, J. Jordan,
D. Grey, C. MacMurtrie, J. Porteous, D. McCann,
R. Moore, T. Rowberry.

Results:

v Rutherford	1st innings loss
v A.G.S. (1)	1st innings win
v A.G.S. (2)	1st innings win
v Rutherford	1st innings loss

5A XI:

With one match still to play, 5A have an unassailable lead in their grade, having won all their matches outright. This success has been due less to our batting which, on the whole, was mediocre than to the steadiness and accuracy of the bowlers and to the support they received from the keenness of the fielding.

Best performances were by -

GEOFFREY PENROSE
6 for 21 and 4 for 1	v St. Pauls

Good batting scores were by -

JOHN HANSON	34	v St. Pauls
KEVIN O'BRIEN	29	v Rosmini
SCOTT MARTIN	40 n.o.	v Rosmini
MICHAEL BOLAND	32	v Rosmini
BRENT BOWDEN	24	v Kelston
	25	v Liston
GEOFFREY PENROSE	30 n.o.	v Liston

6A : CRICKET:

Team: R.Greenwood(Captain), M.Baker, T.Betts,
M.Colman, B.Elliott, R.Jones, R.Loseby, R.MacKissack,
S.McFadyan, M.Rimmer, D.Sclater, P.Stanley, C.Trevor,
P.Worrall.

This year's Westlake 6A team has made a very strong start to the season and are in a position to give our school its third consecutive Auckland third form championship. With 35 points from 6 games, they lead Mt. Roskill and Auckland Grammar by 11 points.

Richard Greenwood, the captain, has set his team a fine example with his bowling figures including 5 wickets for 2, 6 for 5, and 8 for 8. Altogether he has taken 30 of the 80 wickets taken at an average of 2.4 runs per wicket. David Sclater, Richard MacKissack, and Peter Stanley have given good support and these four, along with Richard Loseby, have dominated the bowling.

Record to date - One outright win over Glendowie.

First innings wins over St.Kentigern's, Papatoetoe, Mt. Roskill, St.Paul's and Kelston.

Batting average: Westlake 11 runs per wicket.
Opposition: 4 runs per wicket.

1977 WESTLAKE WATERPOLO TEAM

The Team was: Kent Everson (Captain)
Gary Hailwood
Stephen Knights
Michael Pepper
Paul Knights
Deane Everson
Tim Webster (Goal Keeper)
Greg Hall

In 1976 Westlake formed its first Waterpolo Team, which was coached by the father of two of the boys, Mr. Geoff Knights, and played in the Auckland B Grade School Competition. This year we played in the A Grade. Unfortunately Mr. Knights was in hospital for most of the season, so it was an almost uncoached team. We won this A Grade competition and had the distinction to have 6 boys selected for Auckland Representative Waterpolo teams. The 6 are Kent Everson, Gary Hailwood, Tim Webster, Greg Hall in the Under 18 team and Stephen Knights and Scott Wilson in the Under 15 team.

This Under 15 team won the National Championship which was played in Wellington at Labour Weekend.

The Under 18 team came 3rd at the same Champs.

SQUASH

The keen interest shown in squash this year resulted in the entry of two Westlake teams in the Auckland Secondary Schools Squash Tournament in the August holidays.

The 'A' Team (Craig King, Mark Greenwood, Grant Anderton, Glen Ford, Scott Tulloch) were very narrowly defeated by 3 matches to 2 in their first round game by Sacred Heart College, the eventual Auckland Champion.

The 'B' Team (Stuart Bedford, Lance Boyd, John Porteous, Steven Williams, Victor Walker) lost their first round game to James Cook High School.

The two Westlake teams eventually played off in the Plate Final which was won by the 'A' Team 4 games to 1.

A Westlake team also competed in the Schools' Team Competition during Term III.

School squash has continued with two groups now in existence, one at the North Shore Squash Club and the other at the Y.M.C.A.

YACHTING

1977 has been a good year for school pupils in yachting.

After taking the Auckland Secondary School Sunburst Championship for the second year, Paul Skinner in "Black Magic" went on to win the Auckland Sunburst Champs.

Hartley Atkinson who shared the Secondary School competition honours with him took enough time off study to win the South Shore Europe Moth Champs.

Hamish Atkinson who with Dean Coleman in "Zero" came third in the Intersecondary School Champs. Must be a top contender for the National Starling Champs in Dunedin. He won the Auckland Champs and was first in the North Shore Champs with John Cutler in second place. Hamish came third in the 24 Hour R.F.S. race on the Lake.

Chris Dickson won the 'P' Class Tanner Cup, then the Tauranga Cup, with Hamish Wilcox coming third in the latter race.

Some ex-pupils have been in the headlines recently. Simon Daubney and Mark Bell, after winning the North Shore and Auckland events, came second in the National Cherub Championships. Simon was a crew in "Gunboat" - second in the Half Ton selection trials.

Rex Lamb took first place in the O.K. Interdominion Championships.

Graham Woodcoffe in the One Ton Trials came in third as Skipper of "Mr. Jumpa" and Michael Spanhake is on "Jenny H".

MATHEX '77

To most contestants, Mathex '77 was a highly entertaining evening.

When we arrived, we had the opportunity to browse through some displays entered by schools in the Auckland area. Most of these were done by individuals, and the best were awarded prizes.

After this we went into a large room full of tables and chairs. We all took a seat and listened for our instructions. Next we were handed the papers on which we were to do the individual test. This included all sorts of questions: almost everything we had been taught in our third-form year was tested in some way. This took about 25 minutes to complete.

While these tests were being marked, we were handed the team-paper; this included much the same type of questions as the individual test - the sort of thing found in an I.Q. Test.

There were four to a team, and everyone made an effort. After filling three to four sheets of paper, we handed in our answers and hoped for the best.

When each team had handed in its answers, the results of the individual test were announced. One entrant from Westlake had made the 'top fifteen'. After a further elimination, he made the 'top six', but unfortunately he failed to get first, second or third place.

Now everybody sat and waited for the results of the teams-event. There were no further eliminations just first, second and third places. No Westlake team managed to get a place.

After an interesting evening we left the Museum and returned home.

SUMMARY

3Bo Entrants:

The team consisting of Peter Worrall, Brian Tregoweth, Andrew Ewen and Gregory Baker came eleventh out of the eighty teams.

Andrew Ewen did very well to reach the top five in the individual event.

3Ke Entrants:

Christopher Trevor, Ross Lorimer, Glen Craig, Mark Coleman and Matt. Bannan attended.

4Fa Entrants:

The team consisting of Grant Shirreffs, Timothy Rutt, Andrew Mathieson and Timothy Callan came first in the teams' event. In addition, Andrew Mathieson came second in the individual event.

CHESS

The School this year was represented by D. Evans, S. Moratti, D. Brown, J. Bedwell, J. Waby, R. Clift, A. McKenzie and G. Bycroft. Our team finished sixth in the Northern Zone 'A' Grade Competition.

On board one, D. Evans played very well to gain four wins and a draw from the five games he played.

We congratulate Auckland Grammar School and Rangitoto College, the overall winners and runners-up in the Auckland Competition.

Our School Championship has once more been won by D. Evans with D. Brown and S. Moratti filling second and third positions.

INTER-SCHOOL CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP - I.S.C.F.

This has been a year of spiritual growth and testing for the I.S.C.F. group. The group has had an almost constant attendance of ten to fifteen. Many third formers came to the group for a short time of perhaps a month and then passed on. They were constantly replaced by a new number of juniors. We know that God still has His hand on each Christian in the school, even if they do not attend our group.

The climax of the year came early in the third term when we organised an "outreach week". The aim of this week was to tell the school about the Christ we love. Various guest speakers were invited, each receiving a good hearing. One particular film was viewed over two days by almost half of the school!

Finally, we must thank Mr. Hayden for the excellent guidance and teaching he has given us this year, and two new teachers, Mr. Fletcher and Mr. Ching, who have also contributed greatly to the group.

We feel that the aim was fulfilled and that God will reap the harvest in due season.

MORNING SEA

The drifting sand from morning winds
Are cast upon the shore,
While the cries of lonely seagulls
Echo once - no more.
Driving eternally, the sea is portrayed
On weathered rocks, where fish are played
And menacing dog with colour grey
Begins and ends a lifeless day.

ANAWATA BEACH:

The black-grained floor
Of the west coast, I saw;
The sea's thrashing roar,
I heard and I saw;
The bleak, blown, landscape,
Howling out eerie rape,
Straddled with awesome rock faces
Was that isolated place of all place
Where I heard and saw no-one
Except the elements, on the run.

THOUGHTS

ON WALKING ALONG THE BEACH FROM KAREKARE TO WAHATIPU.

A lone gull circles on blue ...
My mind regresses to times long-sung,
Surely a sail does not break the horizon?
Catching the mighty North Wind in its unfurled canvas,
- an old whaler patrolling the seas
looking for a majestic beast to conquer,
... but the vision fails,
and I must retreat sadly to reality ...
A lone gull circles on blue.

WALKING ALONG THE BEACH FROM KAREKARE TO WHATIPU:

The distant roar of an invincible, foaming army,
and on a black searing carpet
a set of footprints trudges into oblivion
undaunted by the towering, silent watchers.

SURFING:

I get to the beach warm,
I start to take my clothes off. I'm nearly ready,
I start towards the water with my board,
Oh, it's so cold but I'll soon get used to it,
Looks like good surf.
I'm going to go out the back and catch a good ride.
If I'm going to catch that wave I'll have to hurry.
I start riding in. Oh, if I could only be tubed.
Then the wave speeds up and it overtakes me.
Slowly the wave tubes the end of the board.
Before I know it the wave's over me, I'm boxed in,
Scared at first but getting used to it, I have to crouch.
When I come out I feel good, I can say
I've been tubed and know I'm not lying.
I'll go surfing every day with the boys to show them how good I am.
Oh, it feels good.

THE DEATH OF THE SUN:

The sun sets slowly
On the brown harbour
And yet the memory of the day lingers
As I sit and watch the death of the sun.

Long shadows creep out from cracks
The speckles of shade joining up
To form a smothering shroud
That covers the colours in its chilly embrace.

Now all is dark, the world is poised
Ready to pounce on the sunrise's first rays
As soon as dawn's fingers pull it from its slumbers.

Richard Moore

THE FEATHERED KING:

He struts proudly down the row, his head held high and his breast puffed out. He walks with a grace that is unrivalled by the birds around him. Nor do they match him in colour or dress. They stand in their drab, speckled brown, melting into the background, while he, the master, stands above all in his beauty. To him, they are nothing but serving wenches and sex objects - there only to fulfil his every whim and fancy. Aristocratic but nonchalant, he surveys the scene. He is unchallenged and safe in his position of supremacy.

Then, as if possessed, he changes the whole scene changes. No longer are his wives drab and dull but they are now ravishing beauties from the elite. He, no longer nonchalant and disinterested, is now the sex-hungry suitor exuding limitless charm. He woos the maidens, subtly displaying the brilliance of his plumage by turning, twisting, spreading his feathers and manoeuvring his body like an expert contortionist. The iridescence of his colours glints in the sunlight like jewels and this regal cloak around his neck rotates to the sounds of his clicking, hissing and whistling - eloquence to which only a bird of high breeding and distinction could relate.

Abruptly the performance ceases and he is now crouching, head inclined on an angle while he releases the raucous din that puts fear in the hearts of any other males in hearing distance. He screeches his death-warning to anyone who dares to enter his territory, or approach one of his wives. His tantrum of jealousy has exhausted him, and now, as suddenly as the performance commenced, it has ended and he is back to his normal self - quiet, non-aggressive but still resplendent in his finery.

- the courtship-display of the Golden cock-pheasant.

FARM:

The cock crowed and Jock rolled over in his bed. The sunlight streamed in between the curtains and he awoke. He got up and dressed and walked down to the cowshed in a sleepy daze. The pump whirred as he set it in motion and then he warmed up the rest of the equipment, sterilized the cups and jumped on the tractor. After the second try it started and he drove the old Ford down to where the cows were mooing impatiently at the gate. He released the catch and the gate swung open, turned the tractor around and drove up the race calling the following cows. When they had all entered the y he swung the gate round and started washing the first row. Soon the pumps were working in a rhythmic pattern and the cups jumping with each revolution.

The last cow kicked as he took off the cups, and put him in a mood. He sighed and realised he had completed half the days ritual again. As he wandered up the race his dog came up playfully and he realized how lucky he was.

MONDAY:

It is not the most beautiful morning that I have awoken to,
The unpredictable grey and white clouds obscure the blue from view.
No movement of the flowers is apparent.
The wind blows not at all.
It is as though the living, bodiless material outside
Were expecting some disaster to call.

I WISH I COULD SAY NO!

I wish I could say no!
But I can't, you know that.
It's because I have to,
I need the money,
To stay alive.
I have to act accordingly,
You know that,
Or else, where would I be?
I try not to let it get me down,
I try not to be ashamed.
I know it's disgusting,
I know it's pointless,
But it's a way of life,
You know that, don't you?
As soon as I've saved enough
I won't have to do it any more.
You never know,
Things might change.
Maybe I'll strike it lucky,
Get carried away in a 'cleaner' shroud,
Bound for paradise, to relax;
And be freed of the ghastly things,
I am committed to do for society.
Oh, well, musn't waste time.
I'll see you again in the morning.

PEOPLE:

Tall, small
Skinny or fat,
How funny for us,
To be all that.

Tall, small
Skinny or fat
Is all we ever are
To look at.

Either tall, small
Skinny or fat.

THOUGHTS DURING AN EXAM:

Here I sit looking quite dismayed,
At the difficult question-sheet displayed.
So innocent, correct and neat,
Is this gloomy question sheet,
Cynically prepared behind closed doors,
By teachers' chalk-stained, groping claws.

'THOUGHT'

In the heart of a nature forest
Lies such splendid beauty
The distant rush of a living stream
Like the tears behind my trembling eyes - unseen.
The willows I invent
To suit the style of my thoughts.
I see it so clear
The fresh, singing air
Whisps across my face, my hair.
My eyes see the life of the natural living,
But something is missing,
My company is only myself.
I wish you were here!

VIOLENCE ON THE RUGBY FIELD

(P. Richardson)

The Second Test against the Lions brought to mind a question about our players: are they sportsmen? When the All Blacks were down the mood was pretty vicious, with a win-at-all-costs attitude accentuated by frayed tempers. People overseas, the newspapers said, were amazed at what they thought was a sportsman-like team acting in a disgraceful manner on the field.

I must say that though I felt a bit disillusioned at some particular All Blacks' play, I wasn't surprised. There has always been violence in Rugby; it is after all a body-contact sport. Even Whineray's All Blacks weren't angels and Welshmen after a Welsh victory (Cardiff vs. All Blacks) in the recent tour said to Andy Haden: "We gave you a hard time but it just pays you back for 1956!"

Kevin Skinner in South Africa was usually in an ugly mood and Springbok supporters still remember his rucking with rancour.

The only time I felt like laughing during the test was when Williams (N.Z.), who, in my mind anyway, has always been a golden-haired boy (only metaphorically) who plays rugby for the love of it, was caught bungling a stiff-armed by the slow motion camera and it was lucky Cobner (his victim) tripped over his bootlaces because his neck would've ended up on a Kaiapoi clothesline. The beauty of it was that he did it 3 feet (approx. 1m.) in front of the referee!

That action seemed to typify the All Blacks' play: bungled cheating that was penalized and kicked over to put the Lions further in the lead.

It seems also that the present day All Blacks aren't worse players than the old "Invincibles", it's just that the "Invincibles" were better at cheating.

In conclusion then, it appears that the violence hasn't increased in Rugby, it's just that more people are getting to see it happening, with the advent of T.V. and televised Rugby games, where previously radio announcers had just vaguely said: "There's a little bit of How's your Father going on down on the field, but I can't identify any of the players". Well now we can.

"THE MINOTAUR:

The naked flame dipped and guttered, casting grotesque shadows upon the rough slimy walls. Prince Theseus, clutching his crude lamp, inched slowly along the puzzling maze of corridors, doorways, and dead-ends. He was gagged with nausea from the heavy damp in the narrow tunnel. It had seemed hours since he had descended the vast subterranean vault beneath King Minos's palace and commenced this tortuous search for the centre of the labyrinth - and for the horror that lurked there.

Minos, the cruel dictator of Crete, had had the "Labyrinth" (as it was known) constructed by Daedalus the ingenious inventor. It was used as a place of sacrifice and, every year the Athenians had to send a tribute of seven virgins and seven young men - which had been imposed on them since they murdered Androgeus, the brother of Minos. These unfortunate people were, when they arrived in Crete, thrown into the "Labyrinth" and being unable to find their way out were thus devoured by a savage monster called the Minotaur, who was half-human and half-bull. However, Prince Theseus had joined one of the sacrificial groups and had embarked on a plan with the intention of destroying the monster. He had one advantage - Minos's daughter, the Princess Ariadne, had fallen in love with him. Before he entered the tunnels Ariadne furnished him with a spool of golden thread by means of which he could guide himself through the "Labyrinth" in which the Minotaur was kept and, after killing him, return, following his marked trail.

Suddenly Theseus stumbled through an opening in the moss-covered walls. A violent blast of air struck him in the face, nearly extinguishing the torch, and sickening him with the putrid, musky scent of animal breath and decaying flesh. He had finally stumbled upon the lair of the terrible Minotaur - a blood-thirsty beast who fed exclusively on human flesh.

Immediately, the Minotaur was upon him, his tremendous weight driving Theseus to the ground. His powerful steel-like fingers tore at Theseus's clothes. The glaring, fiery eyes burned through him. Razor-like horns pierced his skin and immediately deep red blood gushed from the severe wounds. The Minotaur was easily superior in pure strength to Theseus. However, Theseus strengthened by his love for Ariadne, fought back with valour and courage. For the first time the Minotaur had faced a formidable opponent. After a short but bloody and violent struggle, Theseus managed to break free of the Minotaur's death grip and wasting no time jumped up, and with one single backhand sweep of his double-edged sword sliced through the thick, hairy neck of the monster. Exhausted, mentally and physically, he dragged the repulsive severed head of the beast behind him and followed the trail of shimmering gold back to the entrance. He then returned to King Minos's palace and collected his prize - the beautiful Ariadne.

NIGHT LIGHT

The carpet swelled like the incoming tide
And the walls breathed lightbulbs
I was breathing air of sound
I was a king upon a cloudy crown.

Sand-blasted brains
Take a trip with me
Then you can see what I see
The chairs were talking
The trees were walking
And the night was kind
When I went out of my mind.

I saw concrete breaking and saw stars dancing
I saw sand sinking and heard the waves winking
and the people were singing and my mind was clear as the stones were scattered vibrating, to the sound of our minds.

Our thoughts were screaming
Our hate was dead
Our bodies were dreaming
Our worries dead.

The roadway was laughing
The lampposts cried
Their wires sagging
Their lights dragging
The cars were all gone
While light shone
Yes, the night was kind
When I went out of my mind.

PANIC

As it was the only night that I was allowed to stay up late, I chose to watch the horror movie, 'Jack the Ripper'. The film ended at twelve o'clock and, as I was only a small boy, I felt quite scared afterwards. By the time I had crawled into bed, my fear was even greater. Presently, however, I soon fell into an uneasy sleep.

I was awakened by a squeak. I opened my eyes and the memory of the film the night before came flooding back. I strained my ears to hear more. Soon there came a tapping of footsteps. A creak at the bottom of the stairs told me somebody, or something, was proceeding to climb the stairs.

Beads of perspiration trickled down my forehead. Hot and cold waves of fear came over me. My body quivered. Another creak at the top of the stairs told me the intruder was about to make his move. Thoughts sped through my mind at the speed of light. Panic seized me. The tapping was becoming progressively louder. Then it seemed to stop. After a period it resumed its walk and I could hear the pattering entering my room. I felt the almost uncontrollable desire to scream out and frighten this thing away. Fear gripped my body, clammy fingers seemed to hold me. The intruder jumped on my bed. I could feel sharp daggers slowly embedding in my body.

"Meow, Meow".

"Phew", I shuddered.

A DAY IN THE NIGHT OF JACK JEBSON:

The train rattled along its rusty tracks toward the small town of Middleford. Jack Jebson sat lazily on the mothballed seat. His thoughts were of Auntie Clara and Uncle Fred, the two old people dearest in the world to him. They were having him for a holiday, to give Jack a break from the hustle and bustle of big-city life.

The hooter blew as it neared Middleford station, an old wooden platform stuck up in the ground. Obviously this was Middleford Station.

The train shuddered to a halt. Jack was off it before it had even stopped. In front of him lay a vast area of dust and rubble. Heavy bricks and pieces of iron lay untidily about the ground. Jack turned to see the train had disappeared. He couldn't even find a trace of smoke as he peered up the track. He couldn't understand the situation. Jack had been to Middleford many times before, but never had it looked like this. He walked slowly up the main street. As there was only one street he had to walk up it whether he wanted to or not. When Jack had come here on other occasions there were always people strolling about, but not today. Jack decided to head straight for his aunt's, but he couldn't help but notice a sound in the drug store. Jack ran over to the door and opened it.

All in an instant a sharp sound cut the air. Jack rolled to one side and opened his eyes. It was 6 o'clock.

LEADERSHIP

Leadership is a topic often discussed but seldom understood, yet of such importance in this modern world of ours that it is much to say that the whole future of civilization depends upon it.

Power of leadership I assure you is one of the most difficult qualities to discern in the young, for it is much more than a mere blend of moral and intellectual qualities, although they are, of course, necessary ingredients. Leadership demands an inherited quality and a person who is able to set an example for others to follow. For a leader to succeed he must lead by the sheer force of his personality, by the carrot and not the whip. Leadership has many definitions. I believe that it is the "transmission of power to other people; power derived from some hidden source." If that source be good, then the whole will be leavened with good; if evil, then the whole will be contaminated. The Governor-General of Australia has given the five moral qualities essential in a leader. They are will-power, initiative, courage, knowledge of your subject and self discipline.

Leadership can all too often be exercised in the wrong way. It has happened to many people that when invested with authority they become 'pig-headed' and overbearing or endeavour to lead by force. A notable modern example of this is Idi Amin of Uganda.

The world at present seems to be going through troubled times with so called "leaders" in developing countries abusing power and authority. Too much attention is paid to a material thing called a standard of living instead of one known as a way of life. It is just this that caused the great empires of the world to rot and perish. An empire means wealth for the imperial power - and wealth means arrogance, torpor and a lowering of spiritual and ethical standards. A question probably asked by many-a-person today is whether leadership is sufficient influence to offset the growth of violence and other anti-social activities.

As Julian Huxley wrote, "the machine works mechanically; the human organism does not, but has its own quite different way of working, its own feelings, its fears and its ideals which must be carefully studied if co-operation between it and the machine is to be fruitful." For in the last analysis the human heart is more likely than the human head to enable the gardens of the West to recover their old bloom.

THE STUDENT COUNCIL - ITS PURPOSE AND FUTURE

The students need a body to represent themselves and this should be the reason for the existence of a student council. The Student Council's future next year is now being discussed. It will be only through every student taking an interest in the Student Council that this body can work effectively for the welfare of students.

As I see it, the aim of the Student Council should be as follows:-

1. To represent the students.
2. To look after the welfare of students.
3. To organize activities involving students for the benefit of students, the school and the community.

This year, the Student Council was originally organized in the form of an executive and various committees to perform certain functions. This system did not work very effectively due to the committee not being well-organized and the lack of interest in the Student Council shown by most students.

At present, the Student Council consists of representatives from each form with a president, a secretary and some other officers. The various committees still perform their functions. This system has not worked as well as it could have because it was organized too late in the year and many form-representatives have not been attending meetings.

It is my opinion that the Student Council should consist of a form-representative, elected by the members of the form they represent. Officers, such as the president, the secretary and the treasurer, would be elected by all students and committees would consist of both student councillors and interested students who are not form-representatives.

Another idea for the organization of the Student Council is that it should consist mainly of sixth and seventh formers. About three of these senior boys would represent each form and the ideas put forward by the students would be discussed.

The decision on what basis the Student Council is organized should be made by the students themselves. If the students show no interest in their Student Council, they have only themselves to blame if they end up with an ineffective White-Elephant to represent them. All students must actively participate in this organization, for themselves and their welfare.

Wawrick J. Taylor Student Council President, 1977.

DAWN:

From the dazzling light,
flow my burning tears.

Dawn has arrived early,
too early, too brightly.

Blinding Aurora
leaves a tenebrous void in her wake.

The light may have fled these shores,
but the thunder remains,

bursting my world about me.
Wind and tears, like acid,
burn my cheeks.

This must surely be my end ...

Jeffrey J. Waite

THE THIRST

Keep out of my firelight
Keep away from my hills
Keep the river from any brain
Give me shelter from its rain.

The sweating world stains the dark
Blue lights flashing red
The green one is on
There's blackness in your head.

You come to walk the needle point
Nowhere to step
The lights are in your head
Your thoughts have all but left.

The beast is coming near
Can you smell his breath
Blood and whiskey mingle
with the tears of a slow death.

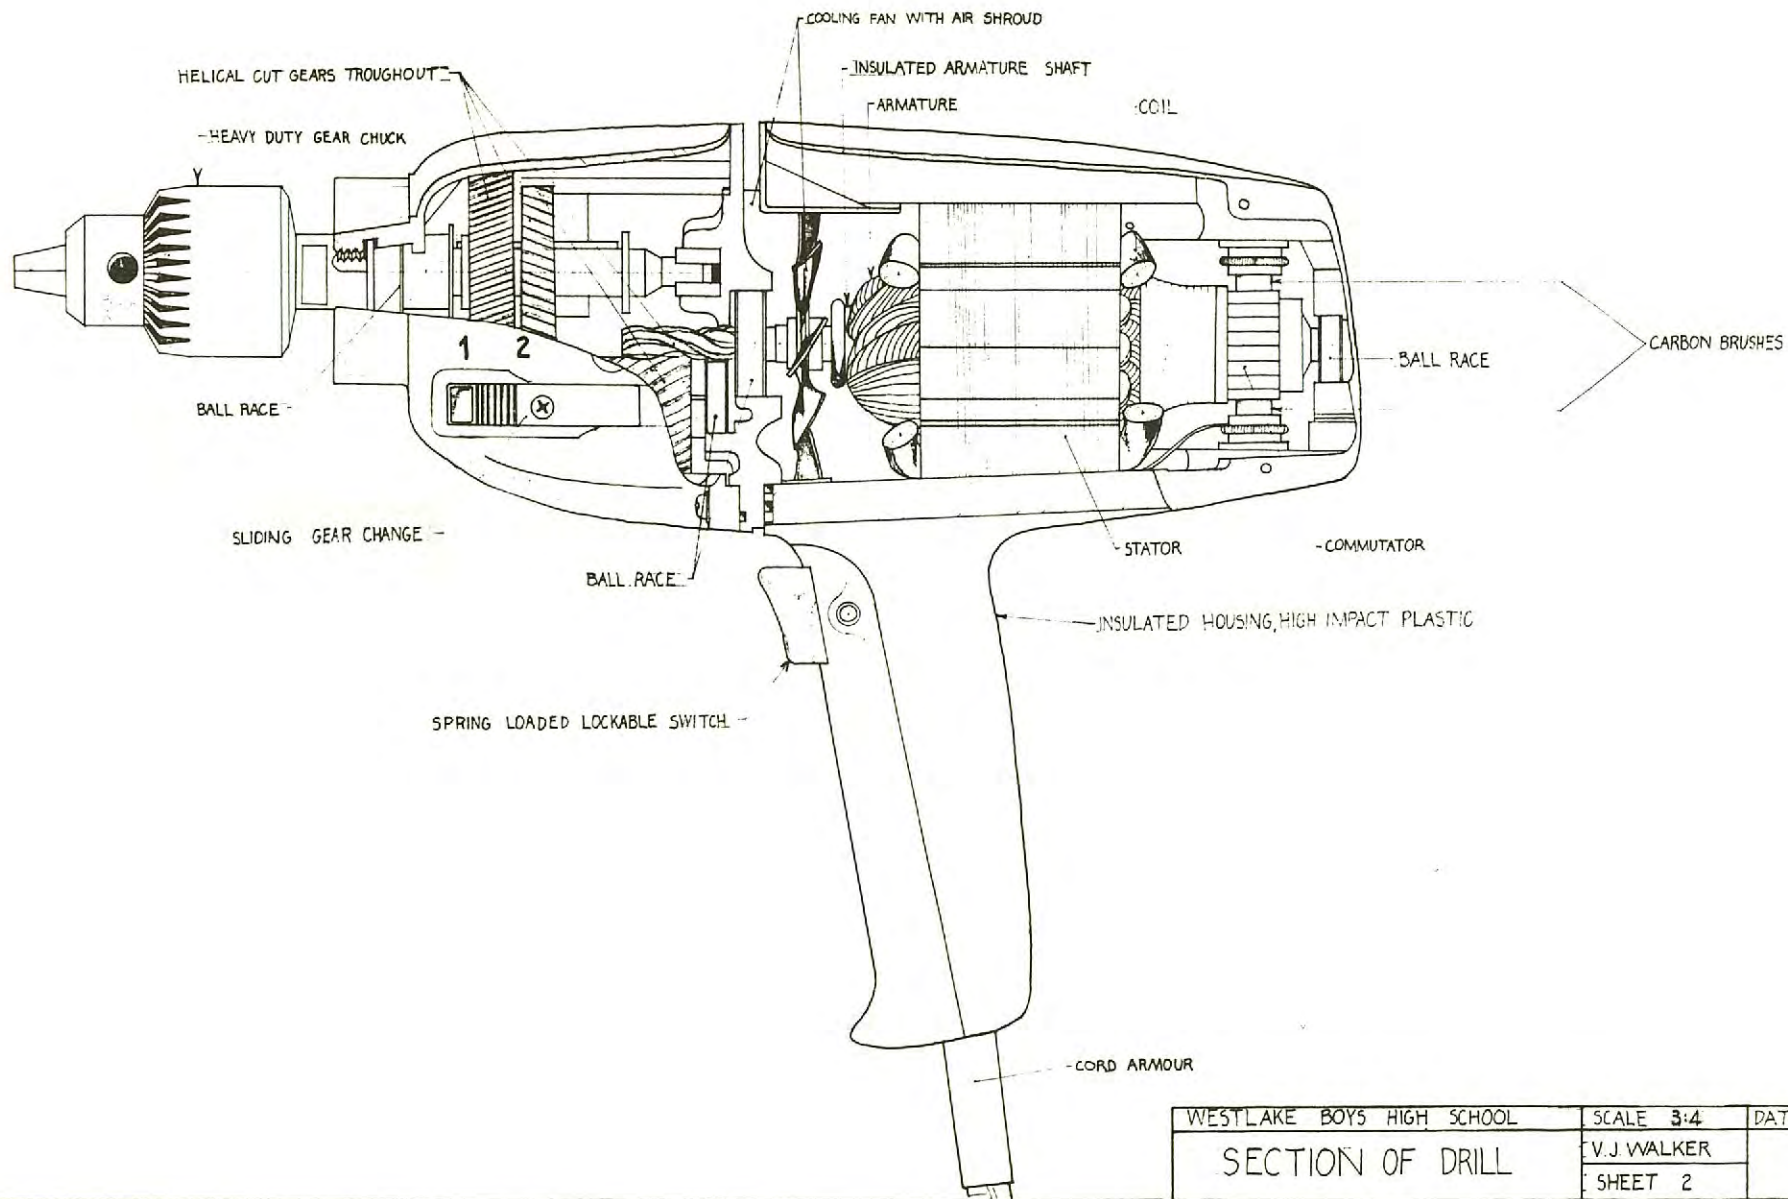

The light distorts in amber glass
The time is slow and hazy
Your mind sleeps in hell
And your body has gone crazy.

Dark rivers running sadness
They bring no relief
They only show illusions
They battle as a happy thief.

THE BALD COMB

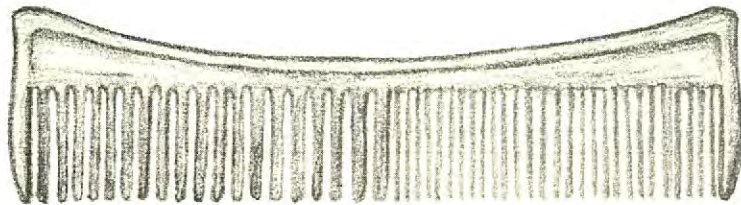

This world is extremely unfair for one small group of people and that's the bald. In this world of new-fangled, tangled gadgets, there are all types of objects for the beautifying and grooming of hair, (Like heated rollers, curling tongs, hair dryers and even the common old comb,) all of which require the presence of hair to be effective. But it is on this simple object, the comb, that I have based my new invention 'The Bald Person Comb'. Although it took years of research, I got there and am proud to present this masterpiece of design. On the bottom left, big teeth for thick, tough hair; bottom right are thin teeth for fine hair; and on the top, the smooth curve for the bald head. So all the bald person need do is sweep this marvel over his scalp and it will stay neat and groomed.

P.S.

You may wonder why a bald man's comb needs teeth - it's for two reasons:

- (1) So that the shop attendant won't know the person is bald if he buys a toothed comb.
- (2) It helps my business - one comb will work for both bald and not bald people.

21ST CENTURY BRILLIANCE:

- Today the new short-distance transport system is to be unveiled
- They say it doesn't produce dangerous pollution like the few remaining antiquated cars.
- It's said to avoid the crowding one experiences on the electromagnetic hover-trains
- Apparently it doesn't require the high initial cost of molecule reorganisation and transmission stations (where one is converted into a radio wave)
- I've heard it won't require a national council subsidy to run
- Somebody even said it might be beneficial to your health.

It's called WALKING!

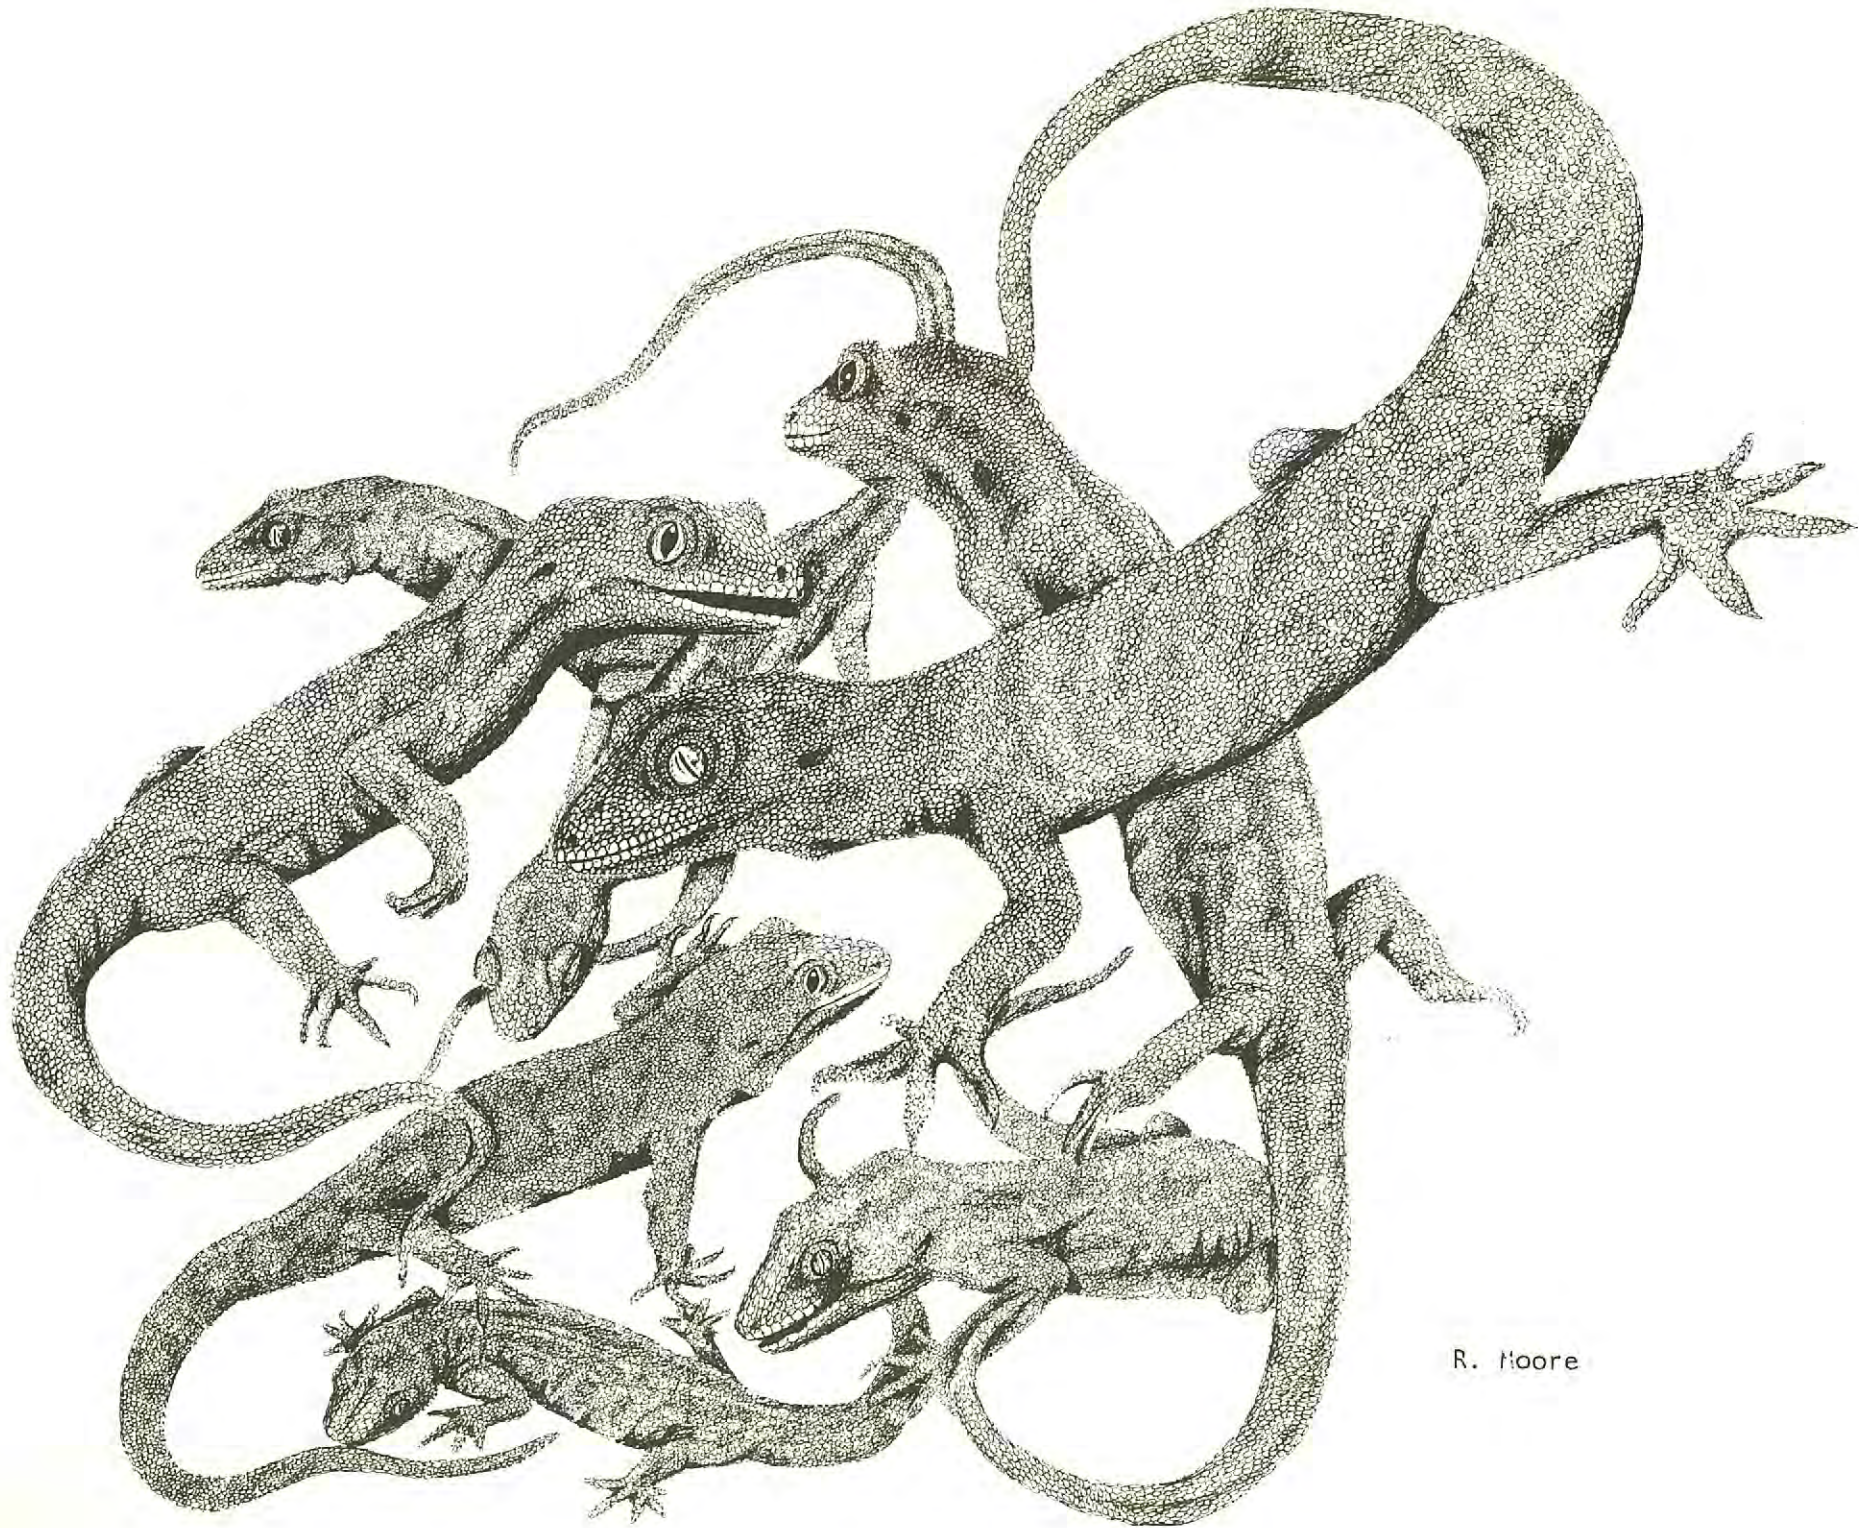

- whatever that means ????

BEDTIME STORY

Well, it all begins a few million years ago. There wasn't much around then - mainly primeval swamp and tropical forests - but there were still a few intrepid dinosaurs ranging the ancestral mud and some early primates swinging in the branches. It is one species of these arboreal quadrupeds that interests us; an opposed-digit laughing-crying animal who decided it would be far easier to walk on the ground than creep around in the trees.

In the beginning, Man was a scruffy, grubby, hairy little creature, who clad himself in scanty animal skins and scabbled in the dirt and leaves searching for a tasty grub or two. He lived in a rather smelly, wet cave and heaved all his rubbish into a festering pile in one corner. In short, he was a rather dirty, mean sort of fellow; not the sort to be invited to garden parties.

Well, it seems, a few Ice Ages later, there was a whole crowd of these omnivorous, mammalian homones erecti living in a group of caves and near them dwelt a guy called Herring. Now this Herring was a bit brighter than the average Palaeolithic Man and one day he grew tired of slogging his heart out in the fields every day.

So he sat down and after a bit of thought he drew up some plans for a wooden harvester pulled by a horse. This idea soon caught on with the tribesmen and pretty quickly Herring had stopped growing crops and was selling harvesters for a living.

This system worked well for a few more years, but by then it had been found that horses were uneconomical and grew tired too easily. So Herring sat down again and after some more thinking he invented a new machine that he called a steam harvester. Well, pretty soon Herring Harvesters were being sold all over the known world and our inventor was growing quite rich.

Until some guy called Maudrist discovered a phenomenon called 'electricity' and soon the new Maudrist electric Harvesters were outselling the old Herring Harvesters.

Now Herring didn't like this one bit. So, when he concocted a substance called dynamite, he began firing little bits at Maudrist.

Well, you know the rest of the story. While the Herringites and the Maudristians were fighting, a man called Combine built several thousand computerized Harvesters; then he also joined the battle.

As you know, the war was so long and violent that almost all the men were killed and that was when we took over

..... There. That was a good story, wasn't it. Now switch off your engines and go to sleep Goodnight.

POLLUTION:

It was not the cans and broken bottles left on the beaches
after a hot day

nor the vandalism
to the beaches'
facilities

Which worried them.

For the cans and broken bottles can be picked up and the vandalism

repaired

It was the oil-slicks
staining the beaches
and maiming the sea-life
and the raw sewage and factory waste pouring into the ocean through pipes.

That told of the losing battle that conservationists fight

POEM (or A CYNICAL PRESENTATION IN FORMAL CAPSULE OF A SERIOUS IDEAL)

I start on a new page,
But nothing helps -
Creative genius evaporates in the 6th form.

The flowery adjectives
No longer flutter down
Like blossom, and assonance atrophies.

The stanzas lie dead
In my subconscious
Trapped by impenetrable shutters of apathy.

Their cold ashes cannot be
Stirred by the threat
Of diminished U.E. accrediting marks.
